

SCORES®

The Scientific Comprehensive Online Research and Evaluation System (SCORES®) is a collection of online software applications created by the American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS) to support a wide range of submission and review processes for our clients, including some of the world's largest research funding organizations.

SCORES® helps manage all steps of administering a research program from materials/application submission to recruiting and vetting subject matter experts, to facilitating highly customizable reviews and discussion meetings (online or in person).

Key attributes:

- Backed by over six decades of AIBS's expertise in review processes.
- Proven though use in assessing billions of dollars in potential research.
- Highly customizable submission and review interfaces.
- Intuitive, secure, accessible, and easy to use for all stakeholders.
